

Business Integration Group, Inc. (BIGe) Named Leader in the 2011 Gartner IWMS Magic Quadrant

TEMPE, AZ – February 2, 2011 – Business Integration Group, Inc. (BIGe), an innovative real estate technology and professional services provider, has recently been recognized as a “Leader” by Gartner, Inc., in their latest Magic Quadrant for Integrated Workplace Management Systems (IWMS) that positions companies by their vision and ability to execute.

Gartner says that “The IWMS market is targeted at the efficient, coordinated management of the complete real estate/facilities life cycle and consists of integrated, Web-based, modular solutions that cover the five core areas of construction project management, real estate administration and management, space and facilities management, maintenance management and sustainability.” Gartner also indicates “The rapid growth in multi-sourcing of facilities and real estate services increasingly requires that service providers, partners and other contract staff have ready and easy access “anywhere-anytime” to workplace data and processes via the portal interfaces that typify IWMS Web-based architectures.”

“We’ve moved from strength to strength with our platform and services and have a robust set of 2011 initiatives that will deliver exceptional value. It’s rewarding to be recognized as a Gartner “Leader” which is a testament to the passion, focus, commitment and execution of our talented employees”, said Michael T. Swanstrom, President & CEO of BIGe. “We’re extremely fortunate to have distinguished clients with whom we collaborate and learn using this knowledge to continuously improve our solutions”.
